European Centre for Disease Prevention and Control

1. Communicable disease threats report, 6–12 July 2024, Week 28

12-07-2024 - European Centre for Disease Prevention and Control: ECDC (Europa)

This issue of the ECDC Communicable Disease Threats Report (CDTR) covers the period 6–12 July 2024 and includes updates on imported Oropouche human infections, Seasonal surveillance of West Nile virus infections, Locally acquired dengue, Yersinia enterocolitica, Cholera, Overview of respiratory virus epidemiology in the EU/EEA, Influenza A(H5N1), Mass gathering monitoring, ... #### 1. IDSA Advocacy Delivers Significant Victory for ID in Proposed Medicare Fee Schedule

11-07-2024 - Infectious Diseases Society of America (IDSA)

The Centers for Medicare and Medicaid Services released its calendar year 2025 Medicare Physician Fee Schedule Proposed Rule July 10, including a new “add-on” code for infectious diseases developed and advocated for by IDSA. Read more...

2. IDSA Releases New Guidelines for Complicated Intra-Abdominal Infections

11-07-2024 - Infectious Diseases Society of America (IDSA)

The Infectious Diseases Society of America has released new guidelines on complicated intra-abdominal infections in children, adults and pregnant people. Read more...

1. Evaluation of the Adherence to Surgical Antibiotic Prophylaxis Recommendations and Associated Factors in a University Hospital: a Cross-sectional Study

10-07-2024 - Elsevier

Surgical antibiotic prophylaxis (SAP) is an important preventive measure, aiming to minimize surgical site infections. However, despite evidence-based guidelines, adherence to SAP protocols remains suboptimal in clinical practice. The aim of this study was to assess the adequacy of SAP in a high-complexity hospital and investigate associated factors. Read more...

2. The Efficacy of an Alcohol-based Nasal Antiseptic versus Mupirocin or Iodophor for Preventing Surgical Site Infections - A Meta-analysis

08-07-2024 - Elsevier

Nasal decolonization of Staphylococcus aureus is a proven strategy to reduce surgical site infections (SSI). Recently updated guidelines expanded nasal decolonization beyond traditionally high-risk populations to include the option for alcohol-based antiseptics (ABA). We assessed the efficacy of a novel ABA for reducing SSI compared to mupirocin and iodophor. Read more...

1. Immunogenicity, safety, and efficacy of a tetravalent dengue vaccine in children and adolescents: an analysis by age group

12-07-2024 - Oxford University Press

No major differences in immunogenicity, safety, or efficacy of TAK-003 were evident by age group. These data support the use of TAK-003 in children and adolescents. Read more...

2. Comparison of the 2015 and 2023 European Society of Cardiology versions of the Duke criteria among patients with suspected infective endocarditis

12-07-2024 - Oxford University Press

Among 3127 episodes of suspected infective endocarditis (IE), the 2023 Duke-ESC clinical criteria showed higher sensitivity (69%) compared to 2015 Duke-ESC (59%) criteria for IE diagnosis their specificity was comparable (98% and 99%, respectively). Read more...

3. Challenges for novel antiretroviral development in an era of widespread TLD availability

11-07-2024 - Oxford University Press

Generic TDF/XTC/DTG will soon be available worldwide. We present eight key benchmarks which novel ART will therefore need to meet in order to compete for widespread use. We demonstrate that several new and developmental regimens do not meet these benchmarks. Read more...

08-07-2024 - Elsevier

Severe burns are a major component of conflict-related injuries and can result in high rates of mortality. Conflict and disaster-related severe burns injuries present unique challenges in logistic, diagnostic and treatment options while wider conflict is associated with driving local antimicrobial resistance. We present a targeted review of available literature over the last 10 years on use ... Read more...

1. A high-throughput assay identifies molecules with antimicrobial activity against persister cells

12-07-2024 - Microbiology Society

Introduction. Persister cells are transiently non-growing antibiotic-tolerant bacteria that cause infection relapse, and there is no effective antibiotic therapy to tackle these infections. Gap statement. High-throughput assays in drug discovery are biased towards detecting drugs that inhibit bacterial growth rather than killing non-growing bacteria. A new and simple assay to discover such ... Read more...
